Register Reminder Is Issued

ROMULUS—The Romulus Community School District is growing, and the needs of the schools are growing too!

Only one-third of the registered voters decide what kind of government or education your children are going to receive.

"Are you among the two-thirds that are uninterested, uninformed or too lazy to vote. Even if you don't have children, or your children are out of school, your taxes go toward education. Your responsibility to provide a good education for the children of this district needs your individual support, the same as people gave you!" said Mrs. Kay Ostrowski, general chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee.

Voter registrations are taken daily at Romulus Township Hall, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., through Friday, May 9.

If you are unable to get to Township Hall between these hours, call the Township Clerk's Office for the name of a Deputy Registrar in your area. The clerk is Alfred J. Perry, and he can be reached at Tel. 941-0666.

Today the "thinkers" are sitting back, allowing their elected officials to solve their problems. However these problems require the attention of these "thinkers" to determine what is right and wrong, what is good for all the people," Judge Foley said.

"Every person in the country is affected by the problems in any given area. Crime is growing by leaps and bounds. The causes are a combination of many things. "A Breakdown in The Family Unit is a major cause of crime. This foundation of society should prepare youth to take their places in society, acquainting them with their duties and responsibilities. In many cases the crime trouble comes from a broken family," Judge Foley said.

Board of Education Seeks Four Mills for One Year

ROMULUS — The start of a community-wide campaign to get Romulus School District's voters to approve a Millage Proposition calling for the assessment of four mills for one year for school operations in the June 9 School Election opened this week in Romulus.

The Romulus School Board approved the millage request at their April 21 meeting and later sought the aid of The Romulus PTA Area Council to aid in seeing that voters learn of the urgent necessity for the millage required to operate schools in the coming school year and restored cut backs in services and programs.

Acting on this request, the Area PTA Council in co-operation with the Citizens Advisory Committee began immediately to make plans for the community-wide campaign to get voter approval of the four mill levy.

be dedicated to alerting and informing the residents of Romulus about the June 9th millage election.

Representing all areas of the community, the group has already launched a series of coffee hours in private homes, with various School Board members in attendance.

Information sheets will reach every home in the township within the next few weeks.

*** AMONG OTHER activities, planned to bring the importance of the election to the attention of the voters will be a car wash, a parade, messages to homes.

Romulus Police Force Expands

ROMULUS — The hiring of eight additional police officers for the Romulus Police Department has been tentatively approved by the Township Board, Police Chief Jacob J. Koch, announced.

The actual employment of added personnel to the police force awaits approval of the 1969-70 general operating budget which is still in the discussion stages, he stated.

The new men, would consist of four full-time experienced officers and four probationary officers. The department at present has three full time officers and five-man auxiliary staff which includes present constables who are used by the police department when needed.

The Wayne County Sheriff and State Police currently assist Romulus in law enforcement.

The township voters last year approved additional millage for the operation of the police department in personnel and equipment, Chief Koch said.

The new millage is expected to bring in approximately $140,000 annually based on present tax revenue.

Huron Township Brochure Ready

NEW BOSTON — "Acres of Opportunity."

"Southwestern Wayne County's Garden Spot For Relaxed Country Living."

"Acres of Gracious Spacious Living."

These enticing and promotional statements are just a few describing the Huron Township in a new and initial brochure just released.

THE BROCHURE details minutely the history, growth, present development and prospects of future development that awaits businessness and residents who chose to settle in Huron Township.

The "most complete brochure" ever prepared on the Township of Huron was made available to township officials and to the township's school system for teacher recruitment by the Astro Realty Company of 3722 Huron River Drive.

The firm has performed the work as a public service, E. Clifford Gleen, president of Astro Realty announced.

He stated that to his knowledge none had been published at least he was unable to find one in his research.

COPIES OF the brochure are available as long as they last he said.

The publication contains every facet of business, school, recreation and residential living supported by all available statistics.

Matter detailed in the unusual brochure is amply demonstrated by photos, charts, and even a news and pictorial report of Huron Township Centennial Celebration. (1867-1967).

ONCE IN A LIFETIME — Throwing something at the school principal may be something some persons have wanted to do at times — we are just foolin' of course. Anyway James Cantrell, fifth grader at Hayti School, makes ready to throw a sponge at School principal Val Connolly, at the school's "Roaring 20's Fair" held last Saturday afternoon, May 3.

On Community School

Huron Citizens Hear Dr. Minzey, Professor

NEW BOSTON — A stimulating presentation on the Community School by Dr. Jack Minzey was presented to interested citizens of the Huron School District on Monday, April 28.

Dr. Minzey is Director of Community Education from Eastern Michigan University. He also showed a film "To Touch A Child," which the audience found most interesting.

The audience asked some pertinent questions of Dr. Minzey. How do we get started? What is the cost of the program? Do we have a chance of having a successful program here at Huron? What are some of the initial problems which must be solved before implementing a Community School program? These were only a few of the questions asked.

Briefly, Dr. Minzey said: "education is a continuing process, learning goes on and on even though we may have fulfilled our needs for the present." Schools are the property of the public, and the public has the right to use its facilities whenever the occasion indicates a need."

*** DR. MINZEY invited those in the audience to spend a couple of days observing the programs of the Flint Public Schools. Flint Schools' educational philosophy is built on the Community School Concept.

The Huron School District has the opportunity to initiate a community school program when it is decided that the public demands this type of program.

Dr. Minzey offered his services, along with those of his small staff from Eastern, to sit down with the Huron Board of Education and establish some basic criteria of need and the approach to meet the needs of the community.

It was suggested by Dr. Minzey to begin with one of the elementary schools by having a community school agent employed. His responsibility would be to know his school area and learn of their needs. He would be working with many other agencies, such as social, governmental, law and etc., to assist in meeting the needs of his school area.

The Huron Board of Education was responsible for the appearance of Dr. Minzey. They would like to express their appreciation to all those in attendance at the meeting.

Senator Cites Inadequacies

Faust Explains Opposition To School Aid

State Senator William Faust of Westland (D-13th Senatorial District) was one of 15 senators who voted against the $845 million dollar School Aid bill in Lansing on Tuesday, April 29.

Faust's explanation for this vote as printed in the Senate Journal is as follows:

Several factors prompted me to vote no on Senate Bill No. 101, the State Aid to Education Bill.

I wholeheartedly agree with the dissenters on this issue that the bill isn't adequate in many areas. I do not feel that the special education programs were funded properly; the transportation sections worked to the severe detriment of the metropolitan areas, and recognition of local participation in school financing again was sadly ignored. Surely if the equal opportunities section of the State Constitution is to be followed, school districts that are forced to tax themselves four times as much as others, should not, in turn, receive a like amount of state aid.

Still, even these inadequacies would not have prompted me to vote against this measure, if a provision to adequately care for reorganized or bankrupt school districts had been included.

I OFFERED such a provision in the wee hours of the morning when this bill was being so hotly debated. It was the same provision as recommended by the State Board of Education, and would have provided funds to those financially distressed districts who had to assume additional students from either bankrupt or reorganized areas.

Members of this Senate know that the Senatorial District I represent pays the highest school taxes in the State of Michigan. Twice in the last two years this already overburdened area has had to assume neighbor's children because of reorganization or potential bankruptcy.

You have heard of the Sumpter School District. You have heard of the Nankin Mills School District. These districts were or are to be dissolved by State Act. The State has ordered neighboring districts to take in the students of these two districts. The State has continually preached the moral obligation connected with these students.

And the neighbors responded!

BUT WHILE the State speaks of moral obligation, it refuses to recognize the financial obligations involved.

The State has not only ordered one small segment of the population to educate another segment, but it also has ordered that segment to pay past debts of adjoining districts.

Is this equity? Is this an equal opportunity for all?

The receiving school districts I speak of have taxed themselves the highest in the State, and the State is now asking the same districts to assume an even higher obligation without providing any means for them to finance this obligation.

Members of this body should carefully ask themselves how long before the receiving districts are in trouble.

Remember Sumpter. Remember Nankin Mills. They are but the first of many more to come because this body has failed to recognize the relatively small problem that will turn into a giant monster.

Because of this, I voted no on this proposal.

LOCAL CAP PERSONNEL VISIT CAPE KENNEDY—Eleven members of the Wayne-Romulus Civil Air Patrol visited and toured U.S. Space Center at Cape Kennedy, Florida, during the week of April 7-12. Armed Forces Week

Chairman is Named

Edwin O. George, President of the Detroit Edison Company and General Chairman of the 1969 Metropolitan Detroit Armed Forces Week Committee, today accepted from Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh a proclamation designating May 12 through 18 as Armed Forces Week in Detroit.

Commenting on the one week observance George said, "During these difficult times I think it is absolutely essential that we in the Detroit area communicate to our young men in uniform some tangible expression of our support.

"It seems to me that widespread attendance of the general public at Armed Forces Week activities would be a positive way of showing that we are standing behind our servicemen and vigorously supporting their efforts."

An evening band concert at Ford Auditorium featuring the U.S. Air Force Military Airlift Command Band, reception honoring Michigan's 10 living Medal of Honor men, a Civic Armed Forces Week Luncheon, static displays in downtown Detroit and open house activities at Detroit area military installations will highlight a full schedule of events to be featured by the Metropolitan Detroit Armed Forces Week Committee on the occasion of the 20th annual observance.

THE EVENT has particular significance for Detroiters this year because of Army Sergeant Dwight H. Johnson, the Detroit soldier who last November received the Medal of Honor for heroism in Vietnam at a White House ceremony.

The Northwestern High graduate has enlisted for an additional three year hitch and is assigned to the Detroit area as a recruiter for the Army. Sergeant Johnson will be participating in many of the activities and at some will be receiving additional tributes. He is the only Michigan serviceman to receive the award during the Vietnam conflict.

Again this year Michigan's Governor, William G. Milliken, and Detroit's Mayor Cavanagh have been named to serve as honorary Co-Chairman of Detroit Armed Forces Week.

Konietzko Wins Again In State Competition

Associated Newspapers Chief Photographer Lothar E. Konietzko has won two first place awards in the annual Michigan Press Photographers Association Photo Contest.

Winners were announced last weekend at the MPPA convention held at Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant.

Konietzko, a past president of the MPPA and long active in the group, was awarded first place plaques for a feature color photo and for a black and white general news photo. The awards brought to 39 the number of awards Konietzko has won since he began entering photo competition nine years ago.

Competing in the over 50,000 circulation bracket against photographers from daily newspapers in Michigan as well as large weeklies, Konietzko represented the Wayne and Westland Eagles, the Garden City Guardian-Review, the Inkster Ledger-Star, the Romulus Roman and the Belleville Enterprise—all Associated Newspapers publications.

The color entry for which Konietzko topped the top prize is entitled "Camouflaged," and depicts a mother duck and three ducklings swimming in the Thunder Bay River in Montmorency County, Michigan.

The black and white entry which took first prize for general news appeared in the February 5 edition of the Associated Newspapers in Konietzko's "Profiles In Photography" column. It is entitled "Sitting It Out," and shows a youngster seated on a chair with flood waters of the Lower Rouge River all about him. The photo was taken in Dynamite Park in Wayne.

Konietzko has been a member of the Associated Newspapers staff since coming to the area from Germany in 1954. He and his wife, Dianne, make their home in Wayne. Konietzko has two children, Karin, a sixth grader at Washington Elementary School and Lothar Siegfried, five months.

Konietzko was nominated at the annual MPPA convention for the office of vice-president for the coming year.

Associated Newspapers General Manager David J. Willett said of Konietzko's prize-winning performance, "Lothar's photography has always been a source of pride for Associated Newspapers. I know that all of our editorial staff and all those who know him join me in wishing him congratulations on these latest honors."

Ford's Conference Draws 75

WASHINGTON D.C. Seventy-five city and township officials representing 13 municipalities in the Fifteenth Congressional District participated this week (May 1-3) in Congressman William D. Ford's Fifth Annual Municipal Officials's Conference.

The three-day conference was described by Congressman Ford as the most successful since he inaugurated the annual event shortly after his election to Congress.

Purpose of the yearly gathering is to give local officials an opportunity to learn first-hand of Federal programs which are available to help local communities.

Speakers at this year's program included representatives of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Department of Justice and the Department of Transportation. Congresswoman Martha Griffiths, of Michigan's 17th District, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, discussed tax-reform proposals and Federal spending in general.

At a luncheon on Thursday, the delegates heard talks by Congressman John D. Dingel (D 16th District) and U.S. Senator Philip A. Hart, (Democrat of Michigan).

Senator Hart devoted his talk to the nation's spending priorities, and called for greater emphasis on education, health and domestic problems, and less on military spending.

On Friday afternoon, the delegates and their families were taken by bus for a tour of the Goddard Space Center, in suburban Maryland.

During the three-day event, many of the delegates also called upon Congressman Ford to arrange conferences for them with officials of various agencies to discuss pending applications for Federal aid.

DELEGATES to the conference, many of whom were accompanied by their wives and children, included the following Representatives from Belleville, Huron, Romulus, Sumpter and Van Buren Townships:

BELLEVILLE—Royce E. Smith, Mayor; Kenneth Palmer, Councilman; Nelson J. Boone, Councilman; and Tony Sam, Planning Commission.

HURON TOWNSHIP—George Angel, Supervisor.

ROMULUS TOWNSHIP—

—Alfred J. Perry, Clerk; Roderick E. Smith, Trustee; James C. Stewart, Trustee; Jimmie C. Raspberry, Trustee; and Ellis Pennington, Trustee.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP—Jerry Maton, Trustee.

VISITS CAPE KENNEDY—Cadet First Lieutenant Bruce Bowdler, 16, of 36809 Herman, Romulus was among 11 CAP members to tour the U.S. Space Center at Cape Kennedy, Florida. The visit was part of CAP Training sponsored by the Wayne-Romulus Civil Air Patrol Squadron. In the background is Launch Pad 39A where Apollo 9 was launched a few weeks ago.

"Permissiveness is responsible for what is happening on campuses today. Although some of the confrontations are meaningful - some have no meaning other than to disrupt the campus. These eruptions are well organized and well financed, with trained leaders going from one campus to another, Judge Foley told the Assemblage.

Political Parties are not living up to their expectations in a changing society because we on a grass roots level are not sharing our ideas," the Judge said and added "Now, in this period of revolution, important decisions are being made. Citizens must participate in their own way, according to their interests. If we want our rights we must recognize that we have duties."

The meeting on April 30 was the final program in a series of three sponsored by the Huron-Sumpter Association for Community Affairs bringing out into the open pertinent issues of the day - youth and drugs, high school drop outs, and involvement in community activities.

No Time for Apathy

The most important filing date is fast approaching—the filing date for school board trustee candidates. As the deadline of May 12 draws closer, few candidates in any area school districts have made their candidacy a matter of public record.

Last year this same phenomenon occurred, and when the filing was over, there were no contests in some school districts, and few candidates in many of the remaining. This is not to say that the men who did file were unworthy, but it does say that uncontested elections are not in the best interests of the school districts.

As the educational crisis in the suburban areas continues to intensify, we need the forum of a contested election to bring the issues into the open. We need discussion to let the public know what kinds of men are available to run our school districts.

The same apathy that affects candidates also applies to the voter. It is often the same voter who casts his ballot in the City election who fails to vote in the school elections. The voting public recognizes the power of City government, but few recognize the even greater scope and power of school boards.

With the ultimate responsibility of educating the children, the members of the school boards of Western Wayne County occupy the most important and powerful positions among all elected local officials.

We urge all serious candidates to come forward to make their views and candidacy known to the public. We urge the public to become informed about these candidates, for the ballots cast in the June school election will be the most important ones cast all year.

Westland Voters Are Kind to the Schools

The relative success of the Livonia School District millage issue in Westland precincts should stand as an example to our state legislators, from all over the state, and to local school administrators and board members alike, that westland voters certainly have been kind to their schools.

Despite the fact that the area is not rich with tax base, Westland voters in Livonia, Nankin Mills and Wayne Community School Districts, have consistently shown themselves willing to shoulder the state's greatest tax burden in order to finance good educational programs and pay teachers decent wages.

The Livonia School District millage request (four mills for one year) passed in six of seven Westland precincts in the district, even as the proposal was getting skunked by a 2-1 margin in the City of Livonia. We think the voters of Livonia School District precincts in Westland realize what sacrifice means.

The Nankin Mills and Wayne Community School District residents pay taxes at a rate about 10 mills higher than do Livonia District residents, and Westlanders know it.

We think it goes to show that Westland voters can hardly be charged with failure to pay up with tax dollars when the chips are down. It also goes to show that with tax rates as high as they are today, nobody deserves a break on taxation for education more than the taxpayers of Westland.

In fact, Westland taxpayers have been so good about paying taxes, we think they ought to be some of the first to enjoy the fruits of fiscal reform for education.

Praise Deserved

Today's police are getting the brunt of ever-increasing public criticism, most of it extremely uncomplimentary. But Wayne patrolman Peter F. Nelson has served as a model example to citizens and fellow policemen, winning the praise of Richard Feister of Feister Auto Sales.

Feister was stopped by Nelson, as the businessman was traveling to his bank to make a large deposit. Feister was impressed by Nelson's courteousness and helpful approach in the questioning that ensued.

But more than that, Feister was surprised when Nelson volunteered to accompany him to the bank to see that Feister made his deposit without any trouble.

Zeroing In

The old adage of "knowledge is power" could not be more appropriate than when it is applied to the drug problem. With drugs, as with every other serious threat, it is only by getting the problem out in the open that the problem can begin to be solved.

Answers on this issue cannot come from hiding the drug problem; they can only come from frank discussions where interested adults and teens can listen to the experts. Drugs are definitely complex, and it takes knowledgeable people like psychologists and doctors to explain the total effects of drugs.

Within the past few weeks two local groups have been making a special effort to help the public know the facts on drugs. The Kirk of Our Saviour Church in Westland and the Nankin Mills Junior High have both sponsored a continuing series on the drug problem.

These groups are to be commended for their separate programs for the knowledge the people have gained will prepare them to cope with future drug problems they may encounter within their families or within their community.

Feister later contacted the force to find out the patrolman's name and to compliment rather than complain about police work.

Indeed, Feister has pointed out something that needs attention—giving praise to those police who do more than are generally expected of police.

REFLECTIONS

Lose Fat Without TV

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

There I was, feeling happy in the bright morning sunshine, chomping away on a rather sad looking poached egg on a slice of unbuttered toast, when I discovered I wasn't happy at all.

I discovered it in the magazine I was reading to help me forget what I wasn't eating.

"Oh m'gosh," I sputtered through the dry toast and leathery egg. I've just found out what is making me fat."

"Humph," grunted my skinny one, who had his nose buried in the sports page. "The Tigers won."

"You should care about the Tigers," I shouted, grabbing the paper from him, "when I've just discovered why I'm fat."

"You eat too much," he said unsympathetically while stuffing another cheese omelet into his mouth.

"Oh no!" I shouted triumphantly. "I'm fat because I'm so unhappy."

When he had regained his composure, he said in his usual gentle way, "Who the hell told you were unhappy?"

"His name is Dr. William G. Shipman, chief clinical psychologist at Chicago's Michael Reese Hospital. He says the only way to make a diet work is to find out the source of the unhappiness of the dieting person."

"That's easy," my love said. "You're unhappy because you're fat... and you're depressed because you cheat."

"Dr. Shipman doesn't buy that," I told him. "He says it's because no one has ever found out the real reason for my depression."

My guy gave me a funny look and venture, "You're depressed?"

"Certainly I'm depressed. I guess a doctor who is as important as Dr. Shipman should know whether I'm depressed or not."

"He doesn't even know you," he muttered.

"He's talking about all overweight women," I tried to keep my dignity... and so I continued.

"Dr. Shipman says that when a woman gains weight after she married it's because something's wrong in that marriage. He says it's because the husband is hardly ever around the house unless he's watching sports on TV. He says I'm starving for affection."

"Okay, so I'll turn off the TV and anytime you want affection..."

"Oh, but there's other reasons," I hurried on. He says sometimes a woman gains weight when her husband derides her and makes her his scapegoat for all of HIS failings."

"I can't help it if you can't hit a golf ball straight down the fairway..." he cut in.

"Dr. Shipman says I'm fat because I'm telling you I don't want any more babies!"

"Ha!" my spouse yipped. "You aren't the only one... but it's not making ME fat."

"Dr. Shipman says I have to get out of the house more. He says I should buy more new clothes, and change my life pattern. He says that whatever changes I do make should come from my own understanding of whatever it is that's making me unhappy..."

"Let's get rid of the TV," my partner said. "I think you're probably needing more affection..."

'IF IT FITZ...!'

It's Hard to Be a Rotten Kid

By JIM FITZGERALD

It's incredible—but comforting—that Scurvy could still be alive and well in a Detroit burlesque theatre.

It's comforting to be reminded that kids didn't always get their behind-the-barn kicks by smoking pot and printing dirty words in school newspapers. They used to skip school and steal away to the big city to see strippers jiggle while baggy-panted comedians panted.

It's incredible that Scurvy could still be at it. I first saw him in 1942 and he didn't look too young then. But there was an ad in the Free Press, just last week, for the National Theatre, "Detroit's biggest & best burlesk." And it said "hilarious comedy by the one and only, original Scurvy." He must be 90 by now, the world's oldest Dirty Old Man.

Ah, nostalgia...

A dozen high school boys would leave home for school but go to the poolroom instead. We'd then break up into groups of 2 or 3 and hitch-hike 60 miles to Detroit where we'd assemble in front of the Avenue Burlesk. There was no question of a kid having his own car, or swiping his Dad's. It was early in World War II and everything was rationed except a father's wrath. But thumbing a ride was easy. When a motorist stopped, I'd tell him we were on our way to Detroit to enlist in the Marines. At the same time, my buddies would sing "Remember Pearl Harbor." I remember one old man who not only gave us a ride but also $1 each with the admonishment to "kill one for me."

The box office sign said minors weren't allowed inside the Avenue. But they had a bicycle rack outside. I was 14 the first time I went and the kids with me called me Pop. To be too young to buy a ticket to the Avenue, you had to be a fetus.

We sat in the front row. The comics were always peering down and saying something hilarious, such as "I see kindergarten got out early today." Boy, we would fall on the floor. The first comic who said this to us became famous on TV about 10 years later. Remember Pinky Lee? He was a lot funnier at the Avenue.

The prat-fallers were fun. So were the hucksters who sold pictures previously available only in France. To fully appreciate the photos, you had to hold them up to a bright light. That meant you had to go home before you learned you'd been gypped. There were dirtier pictures in the National Geographic.

But all of that was incidental. We were at the Avenue to see the girls take it off. Zowie. They'd flick their tassels right in our noses. The drummer would whop his drum, a redhead would shake her shaker, and I was a man of the world. What was there left for me to do, except maybe kiss Betty Grable? And hurry back to school to tell the sissies what they'd missed.

That was yesterday. Kids don't sneak off to burlesque houses today. Why bother? On the TV Academy Award show, Barbra Streisand showed as much skin as any Avenue stripper. Many waitresses dress below the belt only, and not much there. If a movie doesn't have a nude scene, it probably isn't a talkie.

This doesn't mean the kids are worse today. It just means the burlesque business is lousy. The strippers have diversified, with outlets on every corner, and you'd better check out the Avon lady before asking her in to meet Grandmother.

We adults have fashioned a world in which it's darn hard for Junior to feel illicit and illegal. He can't do it behind the barn because it's a glass carport. He can't do it laughing at Scurvy because Mom is home laughing at dirtier jokes on the Johnny Carson show.

That's progress, I guess, just like air conditioning and anti-ballistic missiles. Only an old fogey would knock it.

But please pass me a bright light while I thumb through my old scrapbooks.

Women I Admire The Most

By DICK McKNIGHT

A recent poll of the nation's women reveals that Ethel Kennedy, the widow of the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. P. Kennedy, are numbers one and two in the most admired category among world females.

While the poll is revealing about what women like about other women (Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis fell to seventh place this year) the poll doesn't say what men think about famous women, which certainly must be just as valuable to know as what women think about themselves.

I am eliminating such real favorites as my wife, my mother, my sister and grandmothers, who aren't in the running, having been retired to a special place of honor in my personal female Hall of Fame. I couldn't be expected to be quite objective about them.

Heading my list of favorite women has got to be Bess Truman, not one of the more colorful of First Ladies, but who probably kept Harry's shin black and blue from kicking him under the table every time he started to talk too much.

I heard a good story about Bess I can't resist sharing. It seems that Margaret Truman once brought a boy friend home to the White House to meet her parents. In the process of walking around the grounds, the young man said to the President, "What makes that grass so green, Mr. President?"

"Manure, my boy, manure," Truman replied.

"Oh, Mother," Margaret said to Bess, "Can't you get father to say fertilizer instead of manure?"

"Keep still," Bess replied, "It took me 20 years to get him to say manure."

Well that's what I like about Bess Truman. Real class.

I have other favorites, too, like Mae West, who can keep me spellbound through the scratchy print of a 1932 movie with Gary Crant looking like he is 16. Nobody, but nobody could play hard to get like Mae West. Who could resist a tingle when Mae said to Cary, "You're my kind of man, son."

Others of my favorite actresses included Ingrid Bergman and Dina Merrill. Miss Bergman because of her incredible ability to play the woman of ice with the heart of fire. She always seemed to have one wrinkle of tragedy across her forehead, and a tear would come to her eye as the background orchestra played bombastically like the troops marching across Europe.

Dina Merrill I like because she has, first, a beautiful face, and because she never seemed to be acting out the parts she played. She's rich in her own right, and probably didn't need the acting job anyway.

Joan Baez is another of my favorites because she talks about all of her causes and crusades and never loses that little smile on her face. Not a grin, just a little smile, while other crusaders emote and act persecuted. She looks like a little girl, but she can surprise you with her steel.

I like Abigail McCarthy when she has interviewed a few times during her husband Gene's bid for the presidency. She reminded me of my wife, because she would always answer the question with what she thought, and it wasn't necessarily what her husband thought. What was important, was that her husband didn't mind if she disagreed with him publicly either.

Of course, there are other women who intrigue me. The spitfires like Mary V. Beck and Madame Nhu, or the quiet ones like Ethel Kennedy and Mamie Eisenhower. Or the sexy ones like Ann-Margaret and a German actress named Catherine Spaak. The funny ones, too, like Lucille Ball, Selma Diamond and the late Marion Lorne, one of the funniest women of all times.

The key to all of this is that the best things about the best women is what they are besides being women. Being people—and with something a little special about them—is what makes or breaks the world's women. Wow, and they've only just started.

Konietzko Wins In State Competition

which took first prize for general news appeared in the February 5 edition of the Associated Newspapers in Konietzko's "Profiles In Photography" column. It is entitled "Sitting It Out," and shows a youngster seated on a chair with flood waters of the Lower Rouge River all about him. The photo was taken in Dynamite Park in Wayne.

Konietzko has been a member of the Associated Newspapers staff since coming to the area from Germany in 1954. He and his wife, Dianne, make their home in Wayne. Konietzko has two children, Karin, a sixth grader at Washington Elementary School and Lothar Siegfried, five months. Konietzko was nominated at the annual MPPA convention for the office of vice-president for the coming year.

Associated Newspapers General Manager David J. Willett said of Konietzko's prize-winning performance, "Lothar's photography has always been a source of pride for Associated Newspapers. I know that all of our editorial staff and all those who know him join me in wishing him congratulations on these latest honors."

Associated Newspapers Chief Photographer Lothar E. Konietzko has won two first place awards in the annual Michigan Press Photographers Association Photo Contest.

Winners were announced last weekend at the MPPA convention held at Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant.

Konietzko, a past president of the MPPA and long active in the group, was awarded first place plaques for a feature color photo and for a black and white general news photo. The awards brought to 39 the number of awards Konietzko has won since he began entering photo competition nine years ago.

Competing in the over 50,000 circulation bracket against photographers from daily newspapers in Michigan as well as large weeklies, Konietzko represented the Wayne and Westland Eagles, the Garden City Guardian-Review, the Inkster Ledger-Star, the Romulus Roman and the Belleville Enterprise—all Associated Newspapers publications.

The color entry for which Konietzko copped the top prize is entitled "Camouflaged," and depicts a mother duck and three ducklings swimming in the Thunder Bay River in Montmorency County, Michigan.

PCHA Approves Salary Increase for Director

WAYNE—Major items on the agenda of the PCHA Board of Directors' meeting this month included a three-year analysis of PCHA operations by Chairman Donald J. Pizzimenti and ratification of a new five-year contract with the Executive Director, Karl S. Klicka, M.D.

Discussing the three-year period of Dr. Klicka's administration at PCHA, Pizzimenti said, "We looked for a man of national reputation, experience with multi-hospital unit systems, and a planner."

Pizzimenti added that he believed that Dr. Klicka had not only satisfied the Board's requirements for an executive director, but that PCHA and Dr. Klicka had grown impressively the past three years.

***

THE CHAIRMAN then left with the Directors a summary of the highlights of the current administration, saying that many of the items represented considerable effort and time to accomplish.

Dr. Klicka's salary, including benefits, had been $47,000 per year. The Board awarded him a new five-year contract to be increased three and one-half percent the first year and two and one-half percent each of the remaining four years of the contract.

The increase will be $1,650 year and $1,500 for each of the remaining four years of the contract.

The Executive Director responded to the unanimous approval of his new contract by saying:

"PCHA represents the best concept, the best approach in the entire country to the problem of financing and improving community hospital facilities."

He added: "God forbid that any of our participating communities (26) should be so shortsighted as to think of withdrawing from the best, in my many years of experience in the hospital field, system that is available."

The Letter Box

TO THE EDITOR:

This newspaper could render the parents of Belleville High School students a great favor. That is put the names and addresses of all the students found possessing or peddling the filthy literature. I want my children to know who they are so they can be avoided. In fact, I don't even want my children in the same classroom with them.

I highly praise the actions of the Van Buren School Board and want to thank them for their courage in trying to halt this offensive behavior before its too late. Parent and taxpayers, if we don't support our School Board now next year at this time it will be too late. These same kids and their permissive "parents" will be dictating the policies of our schools.

Act now, encourage our good citizens on the School Board with your letters and phone calls.

Help keep our schools clean and rid them of these offensive students.

"A Student's Mom"

Area Baton Corps Seek Assistance

BELLEVILLE — A letter received from one of our readers and published in last week's issue made a plea for assistance in providing better recreational activities for Belleville's "young misses."

Mrs. Penny Davis, who wrote the letter reported that she is doing her part by trying to keep the "SO-FISS-TEE-CATS & KITTENS BATON CORPS" going.

She stated that the group now numbers 40 young girls and is growing steadily. She said that the girls are working hard and enjoy what they are doing. She made a plea for help in helping her to keep the group together and progressing.

Anyone wanting more

TO THE EDITOR:

Rather than the offenders taking this legal action against our School Board, why aren't we, the parents of decent Belleville High School students, demanding that our School Board take legal action against these "smutty" students. Don't we realize that this one case can set a dangerous precedent if we don't get behind our School Board and give them all the support they need to fight this thing?

This is only the beginning—if we aren't more prudent, these minority students will take over our school the same way students in college campuses are doing all over the country. Let's stop it now, while in it's early stages.

To the Van Buren-Belleville Public School Board I say BRAVO—we're proud of you and hope you'll keep up the good work!

To David Vought and his parents, Ask yourselves truthfully, "Are you proud of yourselves?"

"Concerned"

68 Was Ugly Year

The year of 1968 was an ugly year for Americans. Tragedy of spectacular magnitude became a frequent front page occurrence. But a quieter calamity took its dreadful toll on all the days before, during and after the Tet offensive in Vietnam, the riots, the assassinations.

It was "quietly" only because it was not concentrated in a single place at a single time. There was no focus to put this misery on the front pages.

To the families and friends of 55,300 men, women and children killed in auto accidents, however, it was the ultimate calamity. To the 4,400,000 victims of injury, it was hard core agony. The economic loss, about 13.5 billion dollars, was an appalling waste.

***

THIS VIEW of 1968 is contained in the annual booklet of highway accident statistics from The Travelers Insurance Companies. Statistics in the booklet were compiled from records of motor vehicle departments throughout the country.

The 1968 highway toll followed a year that saw a leveling off in the number of highway deaths and injuries. In 1967 approximately 53,000 lives were lost in motor vehicle mishaps - 4,200,000 persons were injured.

Why the increase? Was it because Americans were lulled by the "improvement" of the preceding year?

There are, perhaps, as many reasons as there are people to voice opinions. Whatever the reasons, the tragedy remains. More than 55,300 persons were killed and 4,400,000 injured.

Mr. Driver, it's up to you to help make 1969 beautiful!

Poetry Corner

THE GOOD SOCIETY

If you share a new idea,
That may lead to long discussion;
If ideas lead to deals,
That may generate percussion.

So if you like it nice and quiet,
Just tuck your head beneath your wings,
Pretend to sleep - keep cool - act dumb,
Like the bird that never sings.

Sounds like advice from Hippyland—
That way off land from too far out?
Avoid all normal society,
Lest you find out what life's about.

Life can be like a beautiful garden,
With good ideas and good deeds;
Omitting these would be just like
Making a garden without the seeds.

Remember the good society
Really means doing things for others—
He who put us on this earth
Tells us that all men are brothers.

The vacation took them to Atlanta, Georgia to be guests of Evelyn's brother and Mrs. Paschal's son and daughter-in-law, Norman and Sue Paschal.

During the week they visited with friends, Mickie and Mary Evans and their daughter Kim, in Mt. Airy, North Carolina. SANDRA FULTON WEDS

New Jersey Church Is Setting For Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony at the Blackwood Methodist Church, in Blackwood, New Jersey, Sandra L. Fulton and Alexander J. Love exchanged wedding bands and nuptial vows. Their April 12 marriage was solemnized by the Rev. William Duvall.

Escorted to the altar by her uncle, Joseph Fulton, the bride appeared in a creation of silk organza over taffeta enhanced with Venice lace appliques and seed pearls. The lace motif was also used at the back where a paneled train, caught up at the shoulders, drifted to chapel length as she walked.

Her bouffant veil of silk illusion cascaded to mid-back length from a lace petaled headpiece and she carried an arrangement of white irises and stephanotis.

Sandra is the daughter of Mrs. Betty Fulton, of 17465 Martinsville Road, Belleville, and the late Elmer Fulton.

Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Love, of 331 Vassar Place, Blackwood, New Jersey.

MRS. JOHN DAVIS traveled from Lincoln Park to serve as matron of honor. Fay Broomell, of Arlington, Virginia, and Danielle Mullen, of Erial, New Jersey, the bridegroom's niece, were bridesmaids.

Wearing identical ensembles, their powder blue organza frocks were designed with a skirt and blouse effect. The sheer bodices were fashioned with crocheted cuffs and bibs while their dotted Swiss skirts were sashed in contrasting velvet.

Their bouquets were comprised of purple irises.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, William Love, of Runnemed, New Jersey. Others on the esquire side were Thomas Patterson, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and Gary Fulton, of Belleville, the bride's brother.

A reception for some 135 guests followed at Compton's Restaurant where Mrs. Fulton received in a mint green coat-dress ensemble. Her accessories were chosen in matching green and she added a cymbidium orchid to her costume.

Mrs. Love wore for her son's wedding a sapphire blue dress with companion coat and harmonizing accessories. She, too, wore a cymbidium orchid.

Following a honeymoon in Ocho Rios, Jamaica, the newlyweds made their home in Alexandria, Virginia. The new Mrs. Love is employed by Eastern Airlines and her husband is with the Washington, D.C. Police Department.

ANOTHER TRIP

THE WILBUR HARDENS, of Sumpter road (he's our 'Bard of Belleville') are home once again after being away for 16 days. Traveling down to Kentucky and then across to Flagstaff, Arizona, they continued on their way to Ontario, California. There they visited with his brother and wife, Guy and Ruth Harden, owners of a chicken ranch, then drove to Hawthorne to call on friends, the Chester Utleys.

Then (despite the rumors of a pending earthquake) they traveled on to Vacaville for a call on his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Kniely.

Heading back toward Michigan, they spent a night in Reno before hitting Salt Lake City where they missed an important turn and motored some 25 miles out of their way into snow-blocked mountains 5,000 feet high. The error, though time-consuming and a bit aggravating, turned out to be one of the most beautiful mistakes they'd ever made. Mr. Harden says the scenery there was absolutely breath-taking.

The travelers, who chalked up some 6,000 miles on their journey, have made this type of trip four times in the past two years. The amazing part of it all is -- this couple has also chalked up over 55 years of marriage! The twosome is now making plans for their next trip which will take them to Pennsylvania and on into the New England area.

OPENING EVENT

BARTON HILLS Country Club held its opening dinner-dance of the season Saturday, April 26. Reservations for the black tie event included those made by Bob and Lucille Perry, of Harmony lane, who were invited for cocktails at the Edwin Ditto's (their dinner partners) prior to dining. Other friends joining them later in the evening were Tom and Elaine Evans, of Ann Arbor.

Another Belleville couple, seated at an adjacent table,

Mr. Schultz, Principal, received a notice from the publisher, National Poetry Press, this week of the acceptance.

From the crowd of 170 ladies who attended the St. Stephen's Mothers Guild 'Luncheon is Served' you could hear the words, "Here" and "That's mine", called out as 43 lovely donated door prizes were handed out.

The luncheon, held April 24, featured a ham and potatoes au-gratin plate. The hor d'oeuvres table presented the guests with the opportunity to sample new appetizers.

Following the luncheon the long awaited raffle was held with a Lane cedar chest filled with linens going to Mrs. Anna Klaes. Other winners were Irene Adaline, disposer; Joanne Petit, can opener; Evelyn Wiabel, percolator; Bob Paducca, hassock; and Lorraine Brulez, picnic jug.

Class Questions Seniors

BELLEVILLE—A high point in classroom activity for the Junior High School eighth grade girls came Tuesday, April 29, when they were visited by four high school seniors.

This panel of four seniors was arranged for Mrs. Laura Schimmel's home economics classes through Edward Steinman of the high school counseling department.

Throughout the year the girls had participated in a short-dating study.

The senior students answered their questions on dating, high school life, popularity, dress, and habits.

The effectiveness of the group was summed up by one eighth grader who said when leaving, "Boy I learned more than I have all year!"

Charter Surveys' Check On

ROMULUS—The Romulus Charter Commission met and started tabulating results of the Citizen's Survey questionnaire on April 20.

Many reports are just being received at the homes and many are yet outstanding.

The commission spent a considerable amount of time in formulating the survey and would appreciate local residents sending them back as soon as possible.

Action was taken to let two commissioners select the most qualified aspirant for the position of secretary to the commission.

Tonight (Wednesday May 7) the commission will meet and start writing parts of the charter which are not concerned with the results of the questionnaire.

TESTS ARE FREE

Healthorama Testing Details Are Described by Sponsors

Wayne, Oakland and Macomb residents visiting the Healthorama scheduled May 22-27 may learn a great deal about their health by undergoing the more than 20 free medical tests.

Testing details were released this week by the Healthorama sponsors, Women for the United Foundation (WUF) and the United Health Organization (UHO).

Open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, including Saturday and Sunday, the Healthorama will be held under a giant tent at Woodward and Mack adjacent to the Professional Plaza in the medical corridor.

Screening tests to be offered include a heart check up geared to reflect such risk factors as elevated blood pressure and serum cholesterol, overweight, cigarette smoking and insufficient exercise.

THE PURPOSE of the heart check up will be to identify the presumably well individual with previously undetected symptoms of early or potential cardiovascular disease so that he may be advised to seek medical care.

During the oral health check up, the face will be examined for unusual skin pigmentation and any asymmetry or other abnormalities. An intraoral examination also will be included to inspect lip color and texture, and the soft tissue of the mouth and neck will be palpated for growths.

For children between three and a half and five years of age, Healthorama will offer a preschool vision screening to detect any sight impairment at an early, and frequently corrective, stage.

Qualified ophthalmologists and nurses will administer the test for glaucoma, an insidious eye disease which causes blindness if not detected and treated early. This test involves measurement of intraocular pressure.

Early stage of glaucoma frequently occur without symptoms, but prompt treatment is essential to preserve sight.

THE HEALTHORAMA hearing test will determine the ability to hear sounds of varying degrees of intensity.

A major purpose of the test is to detect hearing loss at an early stage when corrective steps can be taken most easily.

Scales will be available at the Healthorama to accurately determine height and weight. Because weight is related to many disease, studies reveal men and women live longer if an approximately ideal weight is maintained.

A blood sugar test will be offered to detect diabetes, a disease for which there is still no known cure but one which can be controlled through proper treatment.

SHOULD THE screening test reflect an increased amount of sugar in the blood, the individual should consult his physician immediately for the condition could indicate the presence or onset of diabetes.

For the most meaningful results, the test should be administered approximately two hours following a regular meal. Those planning to undergo the Healthorama test should eat a full meal immediately before leaving home.

Another test indicating the number of red blood cells in the body will help to detect anemia or polycythemia.

Insufficient red blood cells may indicate anemia; too many could reflect polycythemia. Both conditions respond to modern medical treatment.

THE HEALTHORAMA chest X-ray will be carefully studied for evidence of tuberculosis and other chest and respiratory disorders including enlarged heart and cancer of the lung.

Early discovery of these conditions followed by proper treatment increases the possibilities of complete recovery.

All women who are 21 years of age and over attending the Healthorama will be offered a free Pap smear examination for early detection of uterine cancer.

Men desiring a complete examination for cancer may make appointments with the Cancer Detection Center, 4811 John R.

URINE TESTS will be performed at the Healthorama to determine if sugar, blood or protein are present in the urine. The presence of any of these may indicate hidden disorders in the kidney or urinary system.

The urine test also is helpful in detecting possible diabetes without drawing a blood sample.

The Healthorama will offer children the Heat test for tuberculosis, screening for diabetes and polio immunization.

Anyone receiving a positive test result at Healthorama will be referred to his physician for more precise tests and examinations to determine the importance of the screening.

There were 1,049 deaths caused by emphysema in Michigan during 1967. Emphysema is a chronic respiratory disease that is steadily increasing.

New Boston Craftsman Pursues a Dying Art

By JIM BRADLEY

Nils Carlson is a man with talented hands and itchy feet. His skillful fingers have taken him to the top of his profession and his itchy feet have taken him across most of the United States and parts of Canada.

Next year will mark his 30th year in a craft he didn't even care to get into—blowing bubbles. And there are only 14 men like him in the United States. Carlson is a 54-year-old artistic glass blower of Swedish ancestry who is one of a vanishing breed. Like many other industries, glass blowing has been taken over mainly by machines and there are only a handful of artistic blowers who still fashion objects by hand. Nils is fiercely proud of his craft and is determined to see it continue and even flourish.

made good money, but the depression hit when I graduated from Central High School in Hamilton, Ontario, and I had to find a job. One of my father's customers was the wife of the president of Canadian Westinghouse and I got the opportunity to work there."

After reaching the ultimate in his profession in Canada he decided to venture to the United States on May 8, 1947. "I guess I got itchy feet to travel and I felt I had gone as far as I could in Canada," he said.

In 1956 he got his opportunity to go to Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, performing his glass blowing art for the guided tours which passed through the well-known landmark. He spent 12 years at the tourist attraction before once again getting itchy feet. "I was health reasons, he still considers it one of the most interesting events of his life."

Carlson feels strongly about his occupation and doesn't hesitate to express himself. "I will not sell a large order of anything unless I can go and demonstrate or explain my craft," he said. "I am a part of my work and I take pride in every piece of work I turn out." He picked up a small glass object from the shelf. "I have over 300 orders for these, but turned down the job because they wouldn't let me come and explain about glass." He walked across the room.

"See this? I refused a very large order for these glass party favors that would have brought me $600. I will not become a mere machine and turn out orders simply for the money. I guess I'm one of a vanishing number anymore, make a living, and not just exist." He paused before he finished. "But too much red tape on the part of the government stood in the way of starting the school."

What about a school to train glass blowers since they're on the verge of extinction? Carlson had the answer. "A school would produce too many glass blowers and flood the market. There's not the need for them now that machines are available. Besides, I don't feel sad at the passing of artistic glass blowers. A person has to put himself into his work and too many people do not want to make that effort today."

"I'm afraid the heyday of glass blowing craftsmen is past. There are only about 14 good top-notch men in this field in the United States today. Most artistic glass blowers find a permanent job at tourist attractions, and while they don't get rich, they do make a good living."

Carlson works at a table on which sets a blast burner—containing two separate fires—that was built and patented by Corning Glassware Co. The fires burn at 3,000 degrees, melting the glass and making it soft and pliable. The craftsman said he uses almost 500 cubic feet of oxygen and five pounds of propane gas each day. Pyrex glass is used almost exclusively at a cost of $1.60 a pound.

A visitor is impressed by the slim mustache and goatee which decorates the lower portion of the Swedish glassblower's face and would make him eligible for Wayne's "Brothers of the Brush"

Centennial beard-growers contest. He was asked about the Charlie Chan-like growth. "Well, we used to work with unfinished glass that had a rough edge and when we would put it to our mouths we would often get cut. Therefore most of the glass blowers grew the mustache and goatee to protect themselves. Now we use finished smooth glass, but the whiskers still help to protect me when I get busy explaining what I'm doing and forget to be careful."

If you're interested in taking up glass blowing, Carlson says there are three main things you need to learn to do. The most important phase of glass blowing, according to pyrex practitioner, is learning to blow a round bubble. "Blowing a perfectly round bubble is the hardest thing for beginners to master. Then "drawing your points" is necessary to learn and the third thing is making a "controlled draw" which keeps the glass in correct proportion as it narrows down to the point."

Besides being exciting and interesting, blowing glass can also be very dangerous. Three times it has almost killed Carlson, and once nearly claimed the life of his wife, Hilda. While working at Westinghouse an Anneling oven blew up in his face, burning his right arm and hand and searing the right side of his face. Two other times he was almost electrocuted when he accidentally bumped on a switch while he had hold of hot wires. His wife suffered the same experience in Detroit due to improper wiring that had passed inspection.

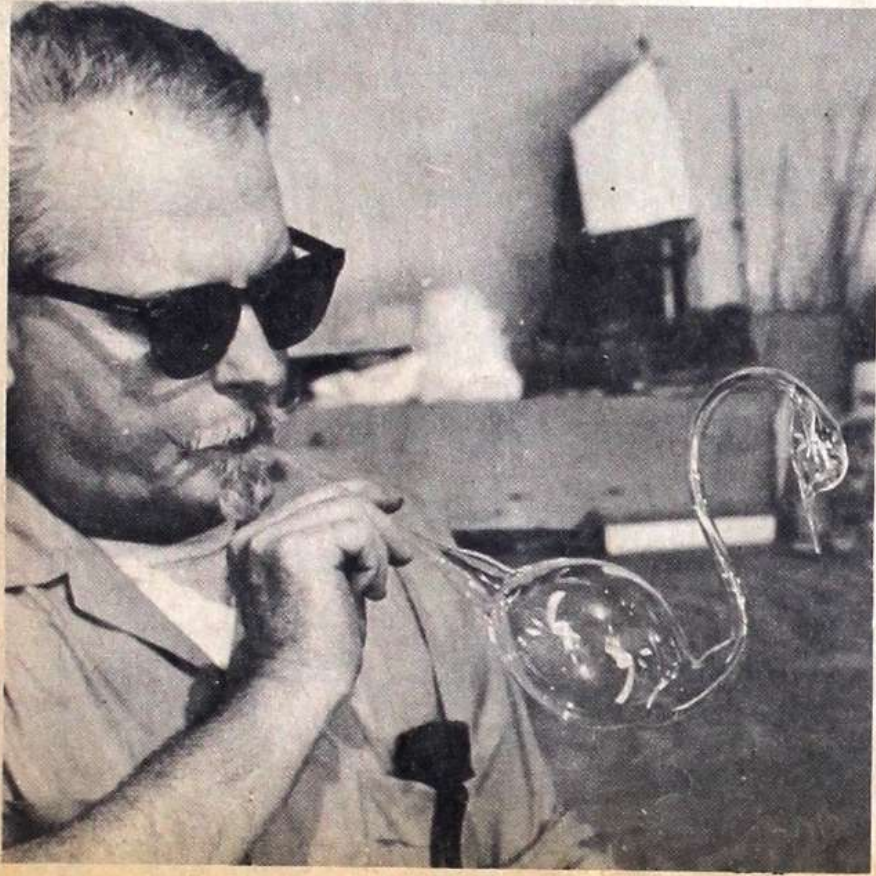

But the danger has not dulled the enthusiasm of this sturdy Swede. If anything it has only driven him to be more creative and talented.

The Carlsons have two married daughters, Irene, who lives a few blocks down the street, and Cynthia who resides in Hamilton, Ohio. Cynthia plans a three-week trip to Europe with her husband this summer and Nils is very envious. He'd like to go to Europe, too.

It looks like the man with the talented hands is getting itchy feet again.

Bloodmobile

The West Regional office of the Red Cross, 2440 South Telegraph near Michigan is holding a bloodmobile on Thursday, May 8 from 2 to 8 p.m.

Nils Carlson, the Glass Blower, at Work

"No," he firmly insisted, "artistic glass blowing is not dead. There is still a place for hand-crafted objects for those who are truly creative." And Nils is one of those who is truly creative. He has a shop connected to his home at 33805 Huron River Drive, New Boston, where he does his work and displays his wares.

It all started when Nils was a 16-year-old lad during the height of the depression in Canada in 1930. His father, Oscar, was a ladies' custom tailor with patrons all over South Africa, England and the United States.

"Those were really hard times," he recalls. "My father beginning to feel something like a machine," he said. "We were on exhibit every hour blowing glass for visitors and had no time for creativity or self-expression. Not only that, we were expected to turn out so many pieces per hour while still demonstrating for the tourists."

Upon leaving Greenfield Village, Nils signed with an agency to conduct glass blowing demonstrations in public schools. Starting in the fall of 1968, he traveled through the southwestern part of the United States doing three schools a day. The trip lasted eight weeks and covered more than ten thousand miles. Although he lost his voice and had to cancel the tour because of but I feel that people should take extreme pride and sense of accomplishment in everything they do. In other words, my craft is a part of me, not just something to earn some money or pass the time."

Carlson's fierce dedication to his work earns him a good living and takes him to many important places. But his loyalty to glass blowing has not taken away his sense of humor. He recently had a good chance to play a practical joke on Bob Hines, popular host of WXYZ-TV's Morning Show. Arranging the joke with the show's producer, Nils had a small glass swan with two holes in it, one in the bill and one in the back of the neck. Hines was asked to blow into the water-filled swan to see if he had the breath to be a glass blower. Not noticing the small hole in the back of the swan's neck, the master of ceremonies blew mightily. Water sprayed all over Hines' face while thousands of television viewers roared with delight.

The craftsman walked to his table and fashioned a beautiful swan in less than five minutes, then continued: "I once wanted to start a disabled war veterans' school to help them learn glass blowing. They could have sat at a table and been creative. It would have helped them

"SUPERJET LOOK" — Display mockup of the new interiors for the superjets and conversion of the older 707 and 727 jetliners shows the spaciousness resulting from the new design. Best of all, the new arrangement provides better access to window seats and makes possible improved conditioned air throughout the cabin.

New Aircraft Decor Takes On Snazzy Superjet Look

THE SUPERJET LOOK—A complete new passenger cabin decor has been designed by Boeing Airplane Company for the older 707s and the new long-bodied 727s and is now being offered to the airlines of the world to up-date their airliners in the world of styling.

Without altering the basic fuselage cross section, the new "superjet look" will give the jetliner interior greater spaciousness. This was accomplished by lowering the ceiling to "widen" the cabin and by use of new materials of modern interior design.

The old 707-type hatrack and suspended passenger service unit, familiar to air travelers, have been replaced with enclosed overhead storage compartments and flush-mounted passenger service units. The overhead compartments will accommodate such items as briefcases and overnight bags.

Supplementing these features will be improved air-conditioning and advanced lighting systems never before seen on airliners. No changes in the airplane systems will be required, either when the aircraft is retrofitted or when installed during new airplane production. Parts common between 727 and 707 interiors have been heavily emphasized. Passenger seats, galleys and lavatories are not changed.

Present 707 and 727 interior concepts that were originated by Boeing years ago, have long been an industry standard. This new concept for the 1970s reflects many advances in interior design and materials which have come about since the early days of air travel.

These new interiors include many new materials which will fulfill the requirements being set up in the Federal Air Regulations for post-accident safety. Cabin sound-levels are also expected to be lower than ever before.

In this new interior, ceiling panels are of compression-molded fiberglass, with sculptured contours providing outlets for indirect lighting. Window panels resemble those of the new giant Boeing 490-passenger 747 superjet that will be in airline service within the next 10 months. The panels will be fabricated of Tedlar plastic laminated to aluminum.

For eye-pleasing, every effort has been put forward to enhance the sculptured contours. The panels will be in solid pastel colors, with decorative designs used on the cabin bulkheads.

The ceiling has been lowered by four inches in the 727 and eight inches in the higher ceiling famous 707. This increases cabin width while retaining a height of six-feet or more. Deletion of the hatracks found in today's airliner cabins has improved accessibility to window seats and results in a better flow of conditioned air in the cabin.

Representatives of most airlines having Boeing jetliners and their inventory have already viewed a section of the new interior mockup form and have added many new helpful suggestions. Most airline comments varied from generally favorable to enthusiastic.

In order to aid the viewers' inspection of the new concept in aircraft interior design, Boeing built an engineering mockup full size to insure that the new interiors are compatible with the basic airplane structure and systems.

This new interior feature will enable aircraft owners to update their aircraft in merging with the coming times and styling.

American Buys More Superjets

American Airlines has ordered six additional Boeing 747 superjets, bringing to 16 the total on order by the carrier.

American announced its initial 10-plane 747 purchase in November 1966. First of the 16 superjets will be delivered to American in May 1970; deliveries of the additional 747s will continue through mid-1971.

American Airlines ordered its first jet aircraft—Boeing 707s—in late 1955, and now has taken delivery of more than 200 Boeing jets of various types.

Announced sales of Boeing 747s now total 184 to 28 airlines.

Test Pilot First Man on Moon

First man to step on the moon will apparently be American Neil A. Armstrong, a civilian test pilot.

Armstrong will be joined by USAF Colonel Edwin E. Aldrin. Both will stand on the moon's craggy surface within forty minutes from the time the Apollo lunar module hatch is opened on a day in mid-July, although Armstrong will be first down the ladder.

Armstrong and Aldrin, wearing extra vehicular activity protective space suits and carrying portable life support systems (including air conditioning) will perform a number of assigned tasks while on the lunar surface.

Astronaut Michael Collins will orbit the moon while awaiting their return to the Apollo Command Module.

Florida is now the ninth most populous state.

3 In Row for Belleville

TIGERS UNDEFEATED IN '6'

Late starts may handicap some people and teams, but in the case of the 1969 Belleville baseball model, it appears to be just what the Tigers needed.

Coach Vitold Kaminski's team has roared to the lead of the Suburban Six Conference standings with a perfect 3-0 record with their latest victories over Plymouth (2-0) and Trenton (5-4).

The Tigers also knocked off a top title candidate, Taylor Center, 9-2, which is presently undefeated in the Mid-Wayne Conference.

John Yocum, a 'man for all seasons' threw a five-hitter against the Rams to pick up the victory. He was supported by his teammates with nine hits, including a perfect 3 for 3 from captain-catcher Gary Gentle.

Yocum also lettered in football and basketball.

Belleville fell behind 2-1 after scoring in the first inning. Taylor Center came up with two runs in the top of the second—but that lead was erased by a five run rally in the bottom of the frame by the Tigers.

Coach Kaminski's team went on to add 'insurance runs' in the fifth and sixth innings.

Aside from Gentle's hitting feats, Ed Gielinski hit in two runs with a pair of singles while Bruce Bara's double also accounted for a run batted in and Dick Wenzel, hitting 2 for 4, picked up an RBI.

Gielinski finished the nonleague day with a pair of doubles in four trips.

Yocum, aside from that 2-run second, was in control all the way. He notched five strikeouts while walking none.

Bara turned in a superb pitching performance in shutting out Plymouth 2-0. His five-hitter included 13 strikeouts and no walks. It was his second win against no defeats.

Belleville scored in the bottom of the second on a walk to Wenzel, a sacrifice fly by Norm Harrington and a wild pitch. They got their second run in the next frame. Rick Munn walked and advanced to second on Gielinski's single. Munn scored on a sacrifice fly of Gary Gentle's.

Earlier in the week, Wenzel pulled through with a 5-4 victory against Trenton which rallied for two runs in the last of the seventh. He gave up eight hits while walking and striking out three.

Bara and Billings led the assault on the Trojan hurler. Each collected a couple of hits in four trips.

Belleville is scheduled to play Ypsilanti, a nonleague rival today, after meeting Redford Union on Monday in a game which should determine league supremacy.

The Tigers return a visit Thursday to Livonia Bentley and launch the second round of league competition Monday with a trip to Allen Park.

Pettus, Merritt Win at Albion Relays

Garrade Pettus and Larry Merritt continued to sparkle for Belleville's track squad as the two top Tiger point-getters carded victories at the Albion Relays last week.

Pettus, a soph who has already set records in the long jump, leaped 22 feet, 4 inches to win a gold medal in his specialty. He also finished second in the high hurdles (15.8) and was fourth in the low jump with a 21.5 and won a fifth place ribbon with a 5 foot 8 inch performance in the high jump.

SOME POINTERS—Belleville's head track coach Marland Howard offers some pointers to top point-getters Garrade Pettus and Larry Merritt. Pettus holds the school broad jump record and has tied the high jump mark while Merritt is the record-holder in pole vault.

Kam Resting 'Pretty'

How about that Kam White — trying to duck out on us and the season the easy way! That "ancient" Inkster track coach and athletic director is laid up in a hospital bed at Annapolis.

He was taken there last Thursday after complaining about his heart.

And just like those likeable Vikings—they're running in and out of the hospital rooms to show their coach how much they admire him. And they're driving those petite nurses just out of their minds.

"He's O.K.," assures a doc at the hospital. "There're more guys calling about him than anyone I've ever had as a patient. Who is he anyway?"

"He's Kam White - everybody knows Kam," I replied. And then went into a biography, cut short only by the doc's plea of "don't have the time."

Kam, who has been coaching in these parts for over a couple of decades, complained last week Wednesday to his cohorts at the Western Wayne Relays' meeting that, "he's bowing out."

"None of us took him seriously," said Barry Basel, head track coach at John Glenn who was among those gathered at Belleville High for the meeting.

"Kam said next year he'll serve as a meet official," related Coach Barry. "I'm too tired to continue," he said.

"We didn't believe him, of course," Basel continued, "but, apparently he meant it."

Coach White didn't feel so hot on Thursday. He began complaining of heart murmurs. He was immediately conveyed to the hospital. The team went on that evening to run Taylor Center without the Inkster coach at the helm for the first time in more years than anyone in these parts can recall.

They sure missed him.

Mystery of Missing Sports Page

People in Associated Newspapers land are asking us to solve the mystery of the missing third sports page. And I really don't know what happened to it!

But I have my suspicions that some "dirty old ad man" is guilty of tampering where he shouldn't have.

You see, in Garden City, Inkster and Westland, the Sports Meridian column disappeared and, in ordinary weeks it would not have been missed.

But there was a question about a baseball ruling in last week's edition, and I asked for help by the learned to resolve it.

The column did appear, in totem, in Wayne and Belleville but, because it was "jumped" from the first sports to the third sports pages, the second half disappeared.

Our sleuth is looking for the second half of the "corpse" and, meanwhile, I'll just continue to ask: "With the score tied, if a pitcher throws three balls and is relieved by a second hurler and the second man walks the batter and that batter scores the winning run, who is the pitcher of record?"

Unravel that one if you can.

MAN TO CATCH—Belleville's Mike Fant is running the half-mile in record-setting pace these days. He's one reason why Coach Marland Howard looks optimistically to the future.

Romulus Faces Crucial Series with Rouge

Romulus' title hopes in the Twin Valley Conference could end or begin with River Rouge this week. The Eagles who defeated Ecorse and lost to Hamtramck, have an important two-game series with the Panthers which began last night.

Coach Lowell Johnson's Eagles play back-to-back games with the downriver powerhouse on Tuesday and Wednesday and a couple of victories would hurl them in the league lead.

Two losses would definitely ruin their chances to repeat.

As it stands at present, all five members of the league have at least one setback tacked on to their record. Romulus and Ecorse, the defending co-champs, appear to be the teams to beat - and they were beaten.

Hamtramck surprised a "lackadaisical" Romulus team, 4-3, in the first of two games played by the Eagles last week. The Eagles were caught napping on base.

Huron "squeezed the life" out of Westland John Glenn to eke out an 8-3 victory which cut an 8-game losing streak of Coach Ron Smith's Chiefs last week.

Huron came from behind twice to also help Jim Inman post his first personal victory of the '69 campaign. His record stands at 1-3 overall.

The Chiefs, however, are still looking for their first victory in the newly organized Huron Conference.

Glenn, which got to Inman for two runs in the second, was not prepared for Huron defensively as the Chiefs laid down three bunts in the third inning which led to three runs.

Glenn, however, tied it up in the top of the fourth. The Chiefs came back for five more runs in the bottom of the frame and the Rockets were helpless from thereon.

Inman hurled a six-hitter while he fanned seven, walked two and hit two batsmen.

"We showed we can come from behind and win," said Coach Smith who hopes the victory may act as a catalyst. "We have been losing the close ones and we needed something like this to get us going."

In that pivotal third inning, sophomore Don Delano laid down the first of three bunts to ignite the rally. He raced to second when pitcher Bob Briggs muffed the slow grounder. After Al Michling walked, Ron Edmonds singled to load the bases.

Huron 'Squeezes Way' to Victory

Then Bob Guntow was ordered to try a "suicide squeeze" and it worked with Delano scoring. With bases loaded and one away, Lester Killingbeck caught the Rockets asleep and pulled off the third bunt for another run. A pass ball put the Chiefs ahead 3-2.

After Glenn tied it up in the fourth, Huron rallied for the five decisive runs which eventually turned the tide. Inman started that rally when he was safe on an error. Jerry Dulecki singled. After Gary Carter fanned, Delano made it to first on the Rockets' second error of the inning. With bases loaded, Michling walked in the first run of the inning. Edmonds' sacrifice fly accounted for the second tally while back-to-back singles by Guntow and Killingbeck drove in the remaining three runs.

Edmonds, who collected a pair of singles in three appearances and who blasted three hits in a losing 5-3 effort against Grosse Ile earlier in the week, now has 5-for-6 in his last two appearances.

Dulecki was perfect against the Rockets with a single and double.

Huron see-sawed with Grosse Ile till the sixth when their rivals broke a 3-all deadlock for good with two runs in the sixth inning.

Edmonds, the losing pitcher, drove in two runs for his perfect 3-for-3. Craig Adaline started the game and went three full innings before Edmonds followed him to the mound.

Michling continued to lead the Huron pace at the plate. He has a .413 batting average which includes seven hits and seven walks in the league and, overall, the senior All-Area outfielder has picked up nine hits and nine walks and has .375 to show for it.

Belleville Golfers Get Into Groove

Belleville's senior-laden golf team won two out of three matches this past week to even their record at 2-2 in the Suburban Six League and 3-3 overall. Coach Bill Brandell's swingers lost to high-powered Plymouth, 164-180, at Fellows Creek as the unbeaten visitor's Tim Kennedy took medalist honors with a par 36 over the 3,180 yard nine hold layout.

Zabonowski again led the way, this time with a 44, as the Tigers posted a 187-199 win over the winless Zebras. Bill Hidenfelter and Mark

Bob Zaborowski fired a 43 for low score honors for the Tigers and Chris Lorentson (44), Jim Harrison (46) and Mark Amerman (47) combined for the 180 total.

After dropping the Monday match to the undefeated Rocks, Belleville took decisions over Wayne Memorial on Wednesday and Trenton on Thursday. Bob

Belleville Golfers...

Amernan each had 45's and Harrison a 47 for Belleville's score. Although his Wayne team went down to defeat, Senior Jim Hubbs was medalist with a fine 41.

On Thursday the Tigers entertained Trenton and took a 180-186 decision from their league opponent. The senior quartet of Jim Harrison (43), Chris Lorentson (45), Bill Hidenfelter (45), and Bob Zaborowski (47) was responsible for the victory which pulled the Tigers even with an overall record of 3-3 and a league mark of 2-2.

"I have six boys, all seniors, that are very close in ability," coach Brandell said. "I'd like to get some of the younger players in the matches to get the experience, but I'm not able to."

The Tiger linksmen will be on the fairways four days this week seeking victories. On Monday they were scheduled to play in the Dearborn Invitational at the Dearborn Country Club where 26 area high schools were slated to battle for scoring honors. Yesterday (Tuesday) they tangled with a hot-shooting Redford Union golf squad which has a good chance to take the league crown this year.

Tomorrow (Thursday) they will match strokes with Livonia Bentley at Whispering Willows course and on Friday they host Allen Park at Fellows Creek. The Suburban Six League meet is scheduled for Monday, May 19 at 10 a.m. at the Western Country Club in Redford with Bentley as the host school. Plymouth and Redford Union are expected to fight it out for the top spot.

John Marcero is in his first year as golf coach at Huron High School but it must seem like much longer than that to the rookie mentor. Just when his links squad was improving and steadily lowering their individual scores they suddenly took a turn for the worse. As a result, the Chiefs are 0-9 on the season and are still looking for a chance to let go with their first victory war hoop.

Three more losses last week, two in the League, ran their conference mark to 0-8. On Monday, April 28 Huron dropped a 180-208 decision to Monroe Jefferson at River Raisen Course in Monroe as the host school's Tom Benore fired a five over par 39 for medalist honors. His teammates, Doug Novell (47), Mike Eighmey (47) and Bill Longton (47), combined for the winning score over the 3,175 yard tour.

For the Chiefs it was "old reliable" George Kareha with a 42, followed by Juniors Terry Hardt (49) and Keith Kentala (55) and Sophomore Mike Compau with 62.

On Wednesday of last week Huron played what coach Marcero called their worst golf of the year as they were bombed, 187-233, by a good Grosse Ile foursome. "It was definitely our worst game of the year," the rookie coach explained. "Grosse Ile has excellent balance and hit the ball real well. One thing I envy them for is the fact the boys come up through the Grosse Ile Country Club and really know how to swing those clubs."

George Kareha again led the Chiefs with 44 to go with Terry Hardt's 57, Kentala's 56 and Compau's 67. Grosse Ile's Mike Ryan tied Kareha for medalist honors with 44 and his teammates John Watson, (46), Gary Duffett (48) and Mike Kauchek (49) helped bring the victory.

Last Friday the Chiefs traveled to Ypsilanti St. John and were defeated, 189-210, over the par 36 course. Kareha toured the terrain in a good 42, but didn't receive much help as his trio of teammates ballooned to the 50's for the nine hole scores. Hardt fired 54, Kentala had 55 and Compau 59 in the setback.

The host foursome of Jim Racine (46), Dave Deyo (48), Bill Anhut (49) and Dave Ennen (49) combined for the victory.

The previous week saw Huron drop three league matches with Kareha leading the local linksmen in the trio of games. Monroe Catholic Central outshot Huron, 172-219, with Terry Lammers shooting a good 39 and Kareha leading the Chiefs with 44. Against Flat Rock Kareha had 48 as the visitors won 185-219. Tecumseh, led by hotshots John Bryan with 38 and Bill Gibson with 39, took a 165-213 victory as Kareha carded a 45.

Today Huron hosts Airport at Carleton Glen after being slated to visit Tecumseh on Monday and host Ypsilanti St. John Tuesday.

EYEING THE FIELD—Ready to take off at the sound of the starter's gun is Belleville's versatile Dave Lorentson who is one reason why the Tigers are looking optimistically to the future.

Pettus, Merritt...

Earlier in the week, Pettus cleared six foot against Plymouth to tie the school record.

Merritt, with another year ahead of him, finished in a tie for first at Albion in the pole vault. He vaulted 12 foot. Returning with a second place was Mike Fant, a 1:59.1 performer in the half-mile. That time, incidentally, broke the Albion Relays' record.

Belleville finished third in the 14-team meet.

In Suburban Six Conference competition, however, coach Marland Howard's Tigers lost out to Allen Park as their mile relay team flunked their test. Belleville also yielded to Plymouth 80-38.

In their 65-53 setback to Allen Park, the Tigers turned in a listless 3:44 for the mile relay to the Jaguars' 3:38.

Pettus was a triple winner as he claimed both the high and low hurdles in 15.9 and 21.8, respectively, and won the broad jump with a 20 feet, 6 inches leap.

Merritt went 11 feet, 6 inches in the pole vault while Ron Cook ran a 10:51 for the two-mile; Mike Fant, a 2:04 for the half; and Allen Fant, a 54.2 for the quarter, to give the Tigers seven of the 14 first places.

After last night's Western Wayne Relays, Belleville had only Redford Union to think about this week.

HURON...

Edmonds, aside from his 5 of 6 in the last two games, also is swatting the ball at a hefty .350 pace, while Dulecki and Gumtow have brought their averages up to .280 and .283, respectively.

The boys are hitting with authority now, said Coach Smith, "and if we continue to do so, we're going to win some more games."

A four game schedule awaited Huron at the beginning of the week. They were to play Blissfield on Monday and today (Wed., May 7) were at Home to Airport. Thursday and Friday, the Chiefs will host Jefferson and Tecumseh.

Crucial Series...

according to their coach.

"Poor base-running led to our defeat," said coach Johnson. "Nothing else. We're a much more aggressive team than we showed at Hamtramck."

The lead teetered for four innings until the Cosmos scored twice in the fifth off of starting and losing pitcher Lee Ballard to gain the victory.

Romulus scored first in the opening inning off of Bob Pietro who went the distance and limited the Eagles to two hits after giving up a pair of runs on a couple of hits in that first frame.

Gary Stewart started the rally with a single and he was sacrificed to second by Ray Horn. Then Paul Seestedt was hit by a wild pitch, Tom Block singled in the first run. An infield error accounted for the second tally.

Hamtramck tied up the game in their half of that inning.

In the fourth, after Blaine Cappaert walked, Ballard walloped a run-scoring triple to move the Eagles out in front again 3-2. Then, Hamtramck came back for those two decisive runs in the fifth.

Rick Paglia kept his record unmarred in the league as he threw a three-hitter to give Romulus a 6-4 victory over title partner, Ecorse. Paglia (2-0) fanned seven and walked three.

The senior righthander received 10-hit support, including a two-run homer in the fifth by Seestedt who also singled in Horn and Ballard to account for 4 RBIs.

Ray Spence was tagged with the loss.

Horn, Ballard and Stewart each had two hits in that 10-hit assault.

Aside from the two-game Rouge series, Romulus will also compete in the Wyandotte Tournament this weekend. The Eagles drew Grosse Ile in the one-game opener.

Chiefs Show Bigger Strides In Track

Although they didn't score at the Ecorse Relays, Huron came up with some impressive times at the annual Invitational on Saturday.

Dave Edge, Bill Roupe, Thel Dregansky and Ed Smith teamed up to win their heat in the 440 relay with a 46.9 and Joe Richert ran a 4:59.4 for the mile to place fifth in his heat.

"It's good for the boys to run against such outstanding competition," said Coach Tom Grange. "Although we didn't score, I'm not disappointed at the progress of our team."

In Huron Conference competition last week, Huron was on the short-end of an 80 1/2 to 37 1/2 decision with Flat Rock. Quarter-miler Randy Clarke remained undefeated in his specialty as he turned a 53.9.

Also in first were the Chiefs' two-relay teams. The 880 squad of Edge, Randy Gorham, Roupe and Glenn Dregansky finished in 1:40 even while the mile team of Rich Tipper, Mark Sheats, Thel Dregansky and Clark was clocked at 3:46 for its best time of the season.

Eagles 'Tied Up' by Taylor Netmen

Romulus netmen cleaned up in nonleague competition, winning two decisions while tying a third last week. The "tie" resulted when Romulus and Taylor Center finished with three victories each.

The Eagles' No. 2 Doubles didn't show because of a misunderstanding in the time of the meet and the coaches decided if the teams finished with an even number victories, it could be a tie.

Coach Zane Kuryliw's netmen also won a 4-3 decision from Tri-River Conference representative, Cherry Hill, and turned back Robichaud, of the Mid-Wayne, 5-2.

In the Taylor Center meet, Andy Kozarian remained undefeated for the season and he trimmed Frank Jasieniecki in a pair of sets (6-2, 6-1) to post a victory in the No. 1 singles. Teammate Woody Barker fell 2-6, 1-6, to John Frasier in the No. 2 bout-out.

Also yielding to Taylor Center was Dennis Wessell who was on the shortend count of two 6-3 sets with Chuck Salai.

Bob Selle, after losing the first set 5-7 to Ray Stoop, came back to win the second 6-3 to force a third set. The Romulus netter fell behind in the decisive set 1-5 but rallied only to lose 5-7.

Glenn Hayes and Jim Smith were defeated 4-6 and 2-6 by George Aikan and George Erdei while Larry Schatilo and Ed Repp turned back Dennis Wood and Allan Moore 7-5, 2-6, and 6-3.

World Red Cross Day To Be Held Tomorrow

The globe-girdling Red Cross movement, comprising

114 societies in as many countries, will observe World Red Cross Day, May 8 in a dual celebration.

In Michigan, Red Cross will make the day a triple commemoration, according to Chester E. Blanton, chairman of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter.

The day marks the 141st anniversary of the birth in 1828 of the Red Cross founder, Henri Dunant, and the 50th anniversary of the League of Red Cross Societies formed May 5, 1919 in Cannes, France.

Experiences of Henri Dunant, a Swiss banker, at the battle of Solferino in the Franco-Austrian War of 1859, led him to bring together in 1863 a committee of Swiss who would found the international Red Cross movement.

JUST AFTER World War I, the chairman of the American Red Cross War Council, New York banker, Henry P. Davison, led a group of Red Cross officials in the formation of a League of Red Cross Societies. The 114 societies now have total membership of more than 214-million persons.

In addition, the Southeastern Michigan Chapter commemorates the first mission of mercy ever carried out by American Red Cross. In 1881, the same year American Red Cross was founded, a six-day, one-million-acre fire ravaged the Michigan thumb area. More than 200 persons died and 2,000 families were made homeless in the State's worst forest fire.

The nation responded to Red Cross' first appeal for help in a disaster with the for-those-times phenomenal sum of $80,000 for relief work.

Local CAP Members Tour Space Center

ROMULUS — One Romulus Township resident, a member of the Wayne-Romulus Squadron of Civil Air Patrol, recently completed a week-long trip to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Space Center, located at Cape Kennedy, Florida.

Cadet First Lieutenant Bruce Bowdler, 16, of 36809 Herman was among 11 personnel sent to the Space Center by their CAP unit.

The eleven, two adult senior members and nine teen-age Cadets, drove to Cape Kennedy and back in a Volkswagen microbus dubbed "the Blue Goose" by members of the CAP unit.

The vehicle performed excellently, as the group did not even suffer a flat tire during the trip.

DURING THE two days spent at Cape Kennedy, the group toured several different points of interest in the area, including two tours of the NASA portion of Cape Kennedy. This included the giant Vehicle Assembly Building, or VAB, third largest building in the world by volume, and launch pads 39A (from which Apollo 9 was launched a few weeks ago) and 39B (with Apollo 10 in place awaiting launch).

Their tour of the Air Force portion of Cape Kennedy included the launch sites used for the Mercury, Gemini, and early Apollo projects, the Mercury monument, and the missile museum, one of the largest collections of guided missiles in the United States.

ALSO VISITED was the McDonnell-Douglas Ti-Co

plant, which is just completing development of the Dragon, a small guided missile for use by the Army. During one of their evenings in Cape Kennedy, the group visited with a local Civil Air Patrol Squadron in the area and received a short tour of the Space Center by air at night.

The trip was part of the Wayne-Romulus Squadrons program of extra activities provided for its Cadet members, both boys and girls who range in age from 13 to 18 years.

The regular CAP Cadet Program includes study of aviation and pilots ground school, military customs and courtesies, drill, and leadership.

PTA Will Aid School In Counting

ROMULUS -- Within the month of May PTA members will be knocking on every door in Romulus Township collecting a school census.

Romulus Area Council, working with the school administration, has accepted the challenge of providing an accurate count of the children in the school district.

On May 1, a meeting was held at the Romulus High School and William E. Jakad, assistant superintendent of schools, outlined procedures to be followed in making the census.

Mrs. Dianne Knight will be coordinator of the effort and she will be working with approximately 70 parents who will be filling out cards for every child of each family residing in the district.

Each local unit will be paid for all the cards they return and it is expected that an especially efficient and accurate accounting will be made.

INVOLVING WESTRA

DNR Details Documented Record Against Protests

LANSING---In recent weeks the news media have carried several stories relating to the activities of James Westra of Wyoming, Michigan, operator of Jim's Animal Kingdom, a pet shop. These stories have included quoted statements from Westra alleging that he has been persecuted by the Department of Natural Resources for treating and caring for sick, injured and immature wild birds and animals.

Understandably, Westra's charges have prompted many people to come to his defense and to protest his treatment by the Department. If the charges were true, the protests would be well-founded.

The fact is that the charges are not true, as the following well documented record will substantiate:

On June 17, 1963, Westra received a permit from the Department to possess and care for sick, injured and immature wild birds and animals until they could be released back into the wild. This permit specifically disallowed such birds and animals to be sold or used for exhibition purposes.

ON AUGUST 8, 1964, Westra was arrested and charged with illegally selling three wild raccoons for $10, $15, and $20. His defense was that the prices actually were charged for one-pound packages of horse meat and that the raccoons were given away free with the meat. A municipal court jury found him guilty, and his possession permit was revoked as is customary in such cases.

On May 10, 1966, Westra was arrested and charged with unlawful possession and public exhibition of 11 wild healthy fox squirrels. He was found guilty in a municipal court non-jury trial.

On July 12, 1968, Westra was arrested and charged with unlawful possession of a wild raccoon. His defense was that he was treating the animal for a broken leg. X-ray examination by a pathologist showed the raccoon did not have and never had a broken leg. Westra was convicted by a municipal court jury. He appealed to circuit court and again was found guilty by a jury.

Because of this record of arrests and convictions, the Department has denied Westra's several applications for renewal of his possession permit.

WESTRA HAS repeatedly stated publicly that he intends to ignore the laws prohibiting possession of wildlife, and the record shows that he has. These laws were enacted by the Legislature and are enforced by the Department for the protection and benefit of wild birds and animals.

Wildlife is wild, by definition. It is in the best interest of wild creatures to prohibit their captivity and sale.

The record also shows that Mr. Westra has never been arrested for caring for sick, injured and immature birds and animals. All three of his arrests involved healthy, mature animals in which illness, injury or age were not involved.

A public dialogue between Westra and the Department probably would serve no useful purpose. The Department prefers to accept the judgment of the organization perhaps most competent to make judgments where the welfare of animals is involved -- the Humane Society. This organization is world-renowned and respected. Its concern is for the animals, not for the interests of individuals or government agencies.

***

THEREFORE, THE Department offers the following letters which are being made public with the consent of their writers:

1. From George W. Lawrence of Grand Rapids, executive director of the Kent County Humane Society.

"I have investigated the charges against Jim Westra of Jim's Animal Kingdom and I want you to know that, as the Executive Director of the Kent County Humane Society, the county involved, I stand one hundred percent behind the State Department of Natural Resources and the courts of Kent County in their prosecution and conviction of said Jim Westra.

I have notified Thomas E. Justice, the President of the American Humane Society Association, to this effect and have given him my reasons.

"Keep up the good work. People that understand are squarely behind our undermanned, overworked State Department of Natural Resources."

2. From Douglas E. Culmer of Fling, president of the Michigan Federation of Humane Societies

"The Michigan Federation of Humane Societies recognizes that certain inhibitions are of vital need if civilized society is to be maintained. Disregard of law on a large scale will ultimately end in anarchy.

Confused about time savings plans? Take a close look and you'll find that NO BANK PAYS MORE!*

There have been a lot of claims made about time savings accounts, especially where interest is concerned. However, we think you ought to consider the fact that no bank pays more than 5% annual interest, compounded continuously on time savings. * With this thought in mind, why not go beyond numerical interest, and take a close look at the real thing, the bank's interest in you as a time saver.

We've made it as easy as possible for you to open a Security Time Savings Account. All you need is an initial deposit of $1,000, and unlike many other plans, you may deposit $50 or more to your account at any time.

We feel it's important for you to know what your money is doing. As a result, at the end of each calendar quarter, you'll receive a statement that shows transactions made and interest earned. At the end of the year, we'll send you a special statement, for tax purposes. In addition, you will receive a handy passbook-type folder in which to keep all of your records.

You'll be able to withdraw savings that have been on deposit for a full calendar quarter, during the first 10 days of each succeeding quarter, without notice, or at any time with 90 days advance (the minimum legal requirement) written notice.

Your savings will earn maximum interest until the day of withdrawal. We'll be happy to credit interest to your Security Time Savings Account, another account, or mail you a quarterly check. The choice is yours.

We hope that the preceding has helped to shed some light on a service we think you will be interested in, a Security Time Savings Account. As you can see, we offer "maximum" bank interest, and a personal interest in you. Open a time savings account with us and enjoy the benefits of both!

When it comes to banking, Security is all you need!

what's a funny place for a phone?

That depends a lot on your sense of humor. If making tracks across a clean carpet to get to a telephone leaves your wife a little less than happy, then perhaps there's nothing so funny about an extension telephone in the garage or workshop.

Extension telephones make sense. They save time by letting you use a telephone wherever you are.

Call your Michigan Bell Business Office or ask your telephone man. For as little as ninety-five cents a month (plus tax) you can put an extension in any funny old place you'd like.

'King of The Patio' Search Is Announced by Edison

The Detroit Edison Company began its fifth annual search this week for a "King of the Patio" from among Southeastern Michigan men who practice and enjoy the art of outdoor cooking.

All Edison customer offices throughout the company's 7600-square-mile service area will accept written recipes, the initial action required for entry into the contest.

The contest for King of the Patio has, since its inception, attracted hundreds of male contenders each year.

Some of the men pursue their culinary artistry with grave dedication while others tackle their art with the light-hearted gall of hearty men simply exhibiting their incidental talents. All, however, have the seriousness of purpose to come out with the grand prize.

Marion Ed. Ryan, head of Edison's electric living division, reports the contest starts today, May 1, and runs through May 31. It is open to men, 18 years of age and over, who reside in the company's service area.

***

PROFESSIONAL CHEFS, cooks, Edison employees and members of their immediate families are not eligible.

Miss Ryan said that entries must include name, address and telephone number, and should be mailed to Electric Living Division, The Detroit Edison Company, 2000 Second Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226 or they may be turned in at any Edison customer office. In either case, entries must be received at an Edison office prior to the deadline, midnight, May 31.

Judge will select ten finalists whose recipes appear the most promising and interesting. Those finalists will be notified early in June and will then compete in a cook-off for 'King of the Patio' honors and other awards Tuesday, June 10. All finalists must be available to compete in the cook-off.

***

THE GRAND PRIZE for the "King" is a complete patio ensemble which includes an electric char-grill console, serving cart with barbecue tools, patio dishes and stainless steel flatware service for eight.

An electric Rotisserie-Broiler, complete with patio table, patio dishes and cutlery, will be awarded as second prize; and the third prize will be an Open-Hearth Broiler Rotisserie.

All runners-up will also receive electric appliances.

MRS. RYAN and her staff will provide the groceries and cooking equipment for each finalist. There will be an assortment of electric broilers, ovens, rotisseries, and grills for the finalists to use.

Judges for the cook-off will be Len Barnes, Motor News outdoor editor, Mark Beltaire of the Detroit Free Press, Mort Neff of WXYZ-TV, and George Pierrot of WWJ-TV.

On the distaff side, serving in the capacity of honorary judges and giving advice based on their long experience in cooking contest judging, will be Cy Riley of the Detroit News, Kay Savage of the Detroit Free Press, and Edythe Fern Melrose, Lady of Charm.

Honor Society Induction

ROMULUS—Miss Paula Cucchiara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cucchiara of 37130 Eureka Road, was inducted into The National Honor Society Tuesday, April 29.

She is one of 24 students attending Romulus Senior High School, who were selected.

Paula, now a junior, at Romulus High School, plans to attend Western Michigan University upon graduation. She is a music major. Her future plans are to become a secondary instrumental music teacher.

Last year, Paula received the highest award given in the music department for ability to express ideas and above average knowledge in the field of music.

Miles Marcero Ends Training

CARLETON — Airman Jerome M. Marcero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miles C. Marcero of 2710 Labo Road, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for training in metalworking.

Chamber Chatter

BY THEODORE F. KUCKELMAN
Executive Director
Chamber of Commerce

The check for his lunch in the diner was $1.45, and the man pulled out two $1 bills. The waiter brought in the change-a 50-cent piece and a nickel. The guest looked up at the waiter, who gazed solemnly at the change tray. With a grunt of annoyance he pocketed the half dollar, and to his astonishment, the waiter grinned widely. "That's all right, sir," he chuckled, "I just gambled and lost."

Did you know that only one barber supports the Chamber?

An octogenarian, at his doctor's for a blood test, explained he was about to get married.

"Really?" asked the doctor. "How old are you?"

"84," the patient replied, "and my bride is almost 22."

Alarmed, the doctor cautioned, "Don't you realize that an age difference that great could be fatal?"

"Well," wheezed the old codger with a shrug, "if she dies, she dies."

DO YOU know that NO beauty salons support the Chamber?

The skeptical judge asked, "By what name were you known in your homeland? With a passive face, the Chinaman answered, "Ah Chu!"

Applying for citizenship, a Chinese immigrant told the judge his name was "Sneeze."

Do you know that NO M.D.'s or D.D.S.'s support the Chamber?

Things are not always as they seem. If you stop and think about it. What do you buy? When you get a paper, you are buying news and information. You don't just purchase glasses, you buy vision. When you install air conditioning or a new heating system, you have purchased comfort and warmth.

So it is with the Chamber of Commerce you don't just secure membership, you INVEST in a healthy, vibrant community. In this investment, you insure progress and growth in the business and industry which employs your clients and customers. Through this investment you become an ACTIVE PARTNER in the effort and work going on in so many areas of community concern.

WITHOUT AN organization such as your Chamber of Commerce working toward economic growth and progress throughout the entire community you could very well be "crying to an empty house" in the "Tomorrow" that is YOUR FUTURE. Your Chamber of Commerce is most versatile and least expensive partner you can have. (The above was taken from the ON TARGET, a publication of the Saginaw C. O. C.)

City Asks No Vote

BELLEVILLE-The City Council is requesting a negative vote on a legislative attempt to legalize the sale of marijuana and reduce penalties for its sale and possession.

In a city council session (April 21) councilmen approved a resolution calling for area legislators to vote NO on a proposal before Michigan legislators that if adopted would legalize sale of marijuana.

Holding such legislature as contrary to the best interests of the citizens of Michigan, the resolution requests State Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D) of Romulus and State Senator William Faust (D) of Westland to vote against the proposal.

Copies of the resolution were sent to Representatives Alex Pilch, Vincent Pettipren and Senators Lorraine Beebe.

Hare Backs Medical Board

LANING -- A bill with a relatively low price tag of $20,000 could do a great deal to tighten up Michigan's driver licensing by helping to get the state's thousands of medically unfit drivers off its roads.

Secretary of State James M. Hare has endorsed House Bill 3192 which would create a five-member medical evaluation committee to advise his Department on whether certain drivers with medical problems should be driving. Senate measure would do ostensibly the same thing.

"I'm convinced there are literally hundreds of thousands of Michigan persons driving on our roads each day who are either physically or mentally ill and should not be allowed to drive," Hare said.

Hare said his state driver examining specialists and examiners for sheriffs and chiefs of police "do not have the medical training to make the proper kind of evaluation and to identify persons who are ill."

The Secretary of State indicated that studies conducted in certain areas of the country indicate that as many as five percent of the total driving population ... a quarter-million of Michigan's 5-million drivers ... are subject to convulsive diseases alone.

"I RECOGNIZED that a program of complete medical checkups for Michigan's total driving population is impossible," said Hare, "but setting up a medical advisory committee to sift problem medical cases is extremely important."

Hare said he was optimistic over enactment of a medical advisory board concept because it "embraces one of the federal safety standards, a relatively low price tag, and its recognized importance to the state's safety and licensing programs."

Essence of the measure...introduced by Reps. Richard Young, Dearborn Heights, and Edward E. Mahalak, Detroit...provides for a five-member committee, four members to be licensed physicians, one an osteopath involved in general practice. The fifth member would be an optometrist.

The measure calls for medical specialties of internal medicine, psychiatry, and orthopedic surgery. Each member would be selected for three years.

MEMBERS WOULD be paid $60 per day for each full day of service performed.

The federal government would match Michigan's appropriation to finance the program.

In instances where special medical counsel is needed, the committee could solicit added information from doctors or other medical specialists.

Dovetailing the medical advisory committee measure is a bill to require Michigan physicians to report any patient who has a physical disability or who requires medication which would interfere with safe operation of a motor vehicle.

In The Open

By LEE SMITS
Special Writer

Every fisherman has thrilling accounts of "The Big One That Got Away." One of the best of these stories was told by the late Jim Kelson who was dean of Lake St. Clair guides for many years.

Jim invented his own muskellunge lure, and it was highly effective; a tube of white oilcloth, about 18 inches long, with a metal head representing a fish and at the tail end a triple hook. As this contrivance was towed, with water flowing through it, it imitated the motion of a swimming fish. Jim knew that big fish are partial to big prey.

Jim did his utmost to persuade his clients to handle their tackle correctly, and when they failed, he was outspoken in his criticism. In trolling for muskie, the rod must be held straight out, parallel with the water. If the rod is elevated, a heavy strike may tear loose.

This is just what happened one day with a sportsman who was not inclined to obey orders. Not only did the fish break loose, it tore all the guides off the rod. Jim Kelson freely expressed himself to the cause of this disaster.

PRESENTLY, A short distance from the Kelson motor boat, a muskellunge surfaced, went under, came up again, leaping clean out of the water, the lure dangling from a corner of its jaw. A few minutes later, the performance was repeated. It was a day when a number of muskie trollers were on the bay and there were many excited witnesses. In discussing the matter later, native experts agreed that the fish was of record size. Estimates of its weight ranged up to 80 pounds. Jim Kelson refused to commit himself.

"Might have gone 80," he admitted, "but maybe it was only 50 or 60. Anyhow, it was the biggest I'd ever seen."

Muskellunge are unpredictable. There is a brief period, after the lake loses the chill of winter and before massive weed growth forms, when trolling for muskellunge is at its best. A day comes to mind when there was flat calm and cottage thermometers registered close to 100 when a kind of muskellunge explosion occurred on Anchor Bay. Fishermen kept coming ashore to exhibit their catches. It was an occasion that stayed long in local memory.

HARE SAID he was sure "there is opposition" in the Legislature to passage of House Bill 2565 but that such a measure would be of "incalculable aid to his Department in the control of persons who for any medical reason should not be driving."

Muskie belong to the pike family. In Europe, a pike resembling our northern pike attains weights comparable to our muskie. This fish is reputed to live 100 years.

A DISTINGUISHED writer on fish and fishing says that pike are inferior to muskellunge as game fish and as food. On the other hand, men with much experience with both species say that, taken from the same water, the two fish are about identical. We never could persuade Jim Essery, chief guide out of Watson's Pine Portage Camp on Lake Kabinakagami, to cook pike for our feasts on the beach. Pike were for sled dogs, Jim contended.

Distinguishing pike from muskellunge is not too difficult, if you have seen enough of both. An easy rule to remember is that muskie have heavy dark spots and pike--which usually are lighter in weight--have light spots.

Pike and muskellunge are both ferocious predators. There have been instances of pike actually biting a person's hand or foot dangling in the water.

One of Jim Kelson's customers, fishing for small-mouth bass, had a fish on his line that made savage rushes, then stopped fighting, making no resistance as it was reeled in.

When the fish came within view of the boat it was seen to be dead and coming after it was a muskellunge, about a 10-pounder. Paying no heed to the fisherman, the muskie tried to make off with the bass, clamping down with big jaws and shaking the bass as a pup would shake a rag, letting go only when Jim make a pass with the landing net.

FAMOUS MUSKELLUNGE waters include the St. Lawrence River, and Lake St. Clair. In fact, lurking around Belle Isle may be muskies bigger than any thus far recorded.

Among Michigan's interior lakes are several famous muskellunge. Indian River in Cheboygan County has big muskies. Munuscong Bay on St. Mary's River below the Soo has a reputation for producing over-sized specimens.

The muskellunge is something of a problem for hatchery management. Muskies have no prejudice about cannibalism. In a pond stocked with fingerling muskies the survival of the fittest prevails until whatever muskies survive are guilty of fratricide on a massive scale.

PRICES CUT—The retail price of the Plymouth Valiant 100 two-door sedan is reduced $193, effective May 3. The 8.4 percent reduction establishes a manufacturer's suggested retail price of $2,094 for the car. Prices also have been cut on three other Valiant models. Glenn E. White, general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, observing that competition in the compact car market is intensifying, said in announcing the price reductions: "We are now taking steps to make Valiant even a better buy and even more competitive in its price class."

Reduces Price on Valiant

DETROIT — The retail price of the two-door compact Plymouth Valiant 100 sedan is being reduced $193, effective May 3. This is the biggest price reduction in the 10-year history of the Valiant car line.

The 8.4 percent reduction in the two-door six-cylinder Valiant establishes a manufacturer's suggested retail price of $2,094 for the car, Glenn E. White, general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, said.

The Valiant 100 four-door sedan is being reduced $180.

Meetings Must be Open

BY FRANK J. KELLEY
MICHIGAN
ATTORNEY GENERAL

Every public meeting of state or municipal bodies performing essential functions must now be open to the public by specific provision of a 1968 statute.

Before this statute was adopted, certain meetings of certain municipal governing bodies were open to the public.

The general common law doctrine was that citizens have a right to be present during the official deliberations of any body performing a governmental function. Nevertheless, the absence of specific statutory provisions and the great variety in the customs of various governmental bodies left the individual citizen without clear guidance as to his legal rights with respect to open meetings. Members of governing bodies also were confused.

The new statute clearly provides that every public meeting of a board shall be open to the public.

A "BOARD" is defined by the statute to mean a board of supervisors of any county, the council of any city or

Board Meets At Quirk

BELLEVILLE — The Van Buren Township Board of Education held a special board meeting at the Quirk Elementary School, April 28.

The school board has been meeting at various schools in furtherance of its policy of improving school-community relations.

It has been reported that several sessions held so far have proved to be very successful.

Some 50 persons, including students, parents and teaching staff attended the meeting.

School board members introduced themselves and commented on their being happy to be present to air views and programs and other matters before the board.

Park Authority Describes Hikes Along Nature Trails

May is one of the most ideal months to take self-guided hikes along any of the nature trails located in several parks of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

"These parks are within a short drive from downtown Detroit and close to most residents in the counties of Macomb, Oakland, Livingston, Washtenaw and Wayne," according to William F. Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Authority, who pointed out some of the signs of spring along the nature trails.

"We hope that after a walk along the trails, park visitors will have a better appreciation of the natural environment of the area and will better understand the relationships which occur between plant and animal residents of the ponds, woods, fields, and marshes," said Hopkins.

He emphasized that park visitors should not expect to take home a bouquet of wildflowers as a memento of their visit. "Both plants and animals in our parks are protected by law so that all visitors may continue to enjoy them," said Hopkins.

Here are a few of the signs of spring along the trails:

LOWER HURON METROPOLITAN PARK near Belleville covers 1,000 acres along the winding Huron River in western Wayne County. It is located about 25 miles from downtown Detroit via the Edsel Ford (I-94) Freeway.

To reach the park entrance on Hannan Road, persons should take the Haggerty Road interchange between Detroit Metropolitan Airport and Belleville.

There are two nature trails in the park. These are the Pawpaw and Bob White trails which cover a distance from 3/4 to 1 mile in length. Spring flowers came out early here and Hepaticas were observed in early April.

The Bob White Trail has the best variety of wildflowers, including such early species as Spring Beauty, Bittercress, Toothwort, Trout Lily, Wild Phlox and Golden Ragwort. Trillium, Jack-in-the-Pulpit and Wild Geraniums will be abundant during the month of May and the foliage of six different species of ferns are starting to appear above the ground.

THE LARGEST and most attractive floral event at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park is the display of blossoming Redbud Trees, which are expected to reach their most brilliant hues between May 8 and May 15. These trees grow along the parkway and can be observed at close range along the Pawpaw nature trail.

Squirrels, woodchucks and foxes might be seen in daylight hours, while raccoons, opossums and skunks normally travel at night along the trails leaving their tracks in the sand. The trails are labelled for self-guided hikes.

The seasonal nature center will be open to the public on week-ends, starting Saturday, May 3.

EXHIBITS INCLUDE a glass-enclosed Bee Hive, live frogs and turtles and mounted specimens of birds and mammals. The stuffed animals, such as raccoons, fox and skunk are very popular with children of all ages.

During the month of May the Nature Center hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. For additional information call the park office: 697-9181 (Belleville Exchange).

Local CAP Members Tour Space Center

ROMULUS — One Romulus Township resident, a member of the Wayne-Romulus Squadron of Civil Air Patrol, recently completed a week-long trip to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Space Center, located at Cape Kennedy, Florida.

Cadet First Lieutenant Bruce Bowdler, 16, of 36809 Herman was among 11 personnel sent to the Space Center by their CAP unit.

The eleven, two adult senior members and nine teen-age Cadets, drove to Cape Kennedy and back in a Volkswagen microbus dubbed 'the Blue Goose' by members of the CAP unit.

The vehicle performed excellently, as the group did not even suffer a flat tire during the trip.

DURING THE two days spent at Cape Kennedy, the group toured several different points of interest in the area, including two tours of the NASA portion of Cape Kennedy. This included the giant Vehicle Assembly Building, or VAB, third largest building in the world by volume, and launch pads 39A (from which Apollo 9 was launched a few weeks ago) and 39B (with Apollo 10 in place awaiting launch).

Their tour of the Air Force portion of Cape Kennedy included the launch sites used for the Mercury, Gemini, and early Apollo projects, the Mercury monument, and the missile museum, one of the largest collections of guided missiles in the United States.

ALSO VISITED was the McDonnell-Douglas Ti-Co plant, which is just completing development of the Dragon, a small guided missile for use by the Army. During one of their evenings in Cape Kennedy, the group visited with a local Civil Air Patrol Squadron in the area and received a short tour of the Space Center by air at night.

The trip was part of the Wayne-Romulus Squadrons program of extra activities provided for its Cadet members, both boys and girls who range in age from 13 to 18 years.

The regular CAP Cadet Program includes study of aviation and pilots ground school, military customs and courtesies, drill, and leadership.

OPTIONAL TRAINING available includes emergency services field training and operations, rescue training, radio communications, drill competitions, and other activities which the Cadets find educational and entertaining.

Teen-agers who think they might be interested in becoming a Civil Air Patrol Cadet are invited to a meeting of the Wayne-Romulus Squadron and find out more about the program.

Meetings are held every Wednesday evening beginning at 7 p.m. at Romulus Junior High School, 11401 Olive Street.

EXAMINES MERCURY SPACE CAPSULE—Cadet First Lieutenant Bruce Bowdler, 16, of 36809 Herman, Romulus shown examining a Mercury Space Capsule during a visit to U. S. Space Center, Cape Kennedy, Florida with other members of the Wayne-Romulus Civil Air Patrol (CAP). The CAP Sponsored the trip and tour to have members see American aerospace power at first hand.

Ford Raps Administration For 'Arrogant Indifference'

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman William D. Ford (D) 15th District of Michigan has publicly rapped the Nixon Administration for "arrogant indifference to the urgent business of the country."

Ford, a member of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, made the charge, last Wednesday, (April 23) at the meeting of the Postal Operations Subcommittee, which is conducting hearings on legislation to give strong collective bargaining rights to government employee unions.

"This may sound partisan to some people," Congressman Ford said, "but the continued arrogant indifference of this administration to the urgent business of this country is something you are going to be hearing more and more about."

"I don't think it is a coincidence that there are no Republicans at this hearing this morning, because they have obviously been told that the Administration does not want a piece of legislation to make labor-management relations a matter of law."

FORD ALSO criticized the failure of Administration spokesmen to appear before the subcommittee, commenting, "We have a terrible time getting them over here while we are considering legislation."

Citing the Federal Aid to Education bill as an example, Ford said: "During the campaign they had everything all figured out. But now they are studying it to death, and they will be ready with some recommendations sometime in June. Of course, we will have passed the bill by the end of this week. I suppose, after it is all over, they will tell us what we should have done, and go to the press with criticisms."

Referring again to the Labor-Management bill, Ford continued: "The interesting thing is, however, that if we do pass this bill, whether he likes it or not, it is ultimately going to get on the President's desk. And as Harry Truman said, 'That is where the buck stops.' Sooner or later, he is either going to have to sign it or veto it."

AT THE conclusion of the hearing Congressman Ford threatened to offer a motion to subpoena the appropriate person in the Post Office Department "to come over and talk to us about labor relations."

"We cannot force him to testify. He may take the Fifth Amendment when he gets here, but at least we will find a way to bring him over. I do not know if there is any precedent for this, and I want the Committee Counsel to check the law on whether we have the power to subpoena somebody from the third and now inactive branch of our tripartite government."
